Into Hollywood from the desert, of Nevada came titter-harried Clara Bow after her day. But she left so long with her son Tom because she complained, the noise of the city kept her awake. And Clara was the Eleanor Glynn "It" girl who lived on late hours and headlines for nine years before the suffocating nervous breakdown which she is now in. Mrs. Bow Bell, her 14-month-old son, says she would trade her life now for all the lights on Broadway. "I just started to live now," she told reporters. Mrs. Bell (Clara Bow is signed above with her son Tom, and (inset) as she appeared during the "It" girl period.

ROME, March 10.—Benito Mussolini guides the fortunes of Italy without the assistance of any permanent assistants, contrary to the German dictatorship, the Italian one of all its vice-dictators.

If there is one fundamental point of Mussolini's dictatorship it is that Il Duce shares his power with none.

He has technical advisers and heads of departments to accompany him in his office, but they are built up. But it is he who decides. Consequently, it is impossible to answer the question, "Who is the real ruler?"

"Who will be Mussolini's successor?"

In internal affairs, Il Duce is supposed to rely on information

EDMONTON TO BE WITHOUT ELECTRIC POWER STANDBY

Calgary Power Firm Notifies City Pact To End on April 11

Edmonton will be without a guarantee of continuous power service after April 11 this year.

Calgary Power Company announced Monday that it could not offer Edmonton a more attractive standby agreement than that already submitted and would therefore disconnect its system from the city's lines at midnight on that date. This action follows council's refusal to enter into an interconnection agreement with the firm.

The company's communication to commissioners was read at Monday night's meeting of council, but no action was taken. It is probable that it will be considered at a special meeting later.

Requesting the city that the Calgary Power submit prices for the supply of power to Edmonton in case of emergency has been turned down.

In its letter to civic officials, the company points out that it expected to receive $100,000 a year to save the city over $100,000 a year under the five-year agreement which it signed with Council, and which council refused to renew.

PARIS, March 10.—The declaration by Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, in the house of commons surprised nobody in France except the cabinet.

It was easy to guess that our friends of the Entente Cordiale were not disposed to impose on Germany respect for the conventions, which, for 10 years, all of us—British included—have let torn to pieces.

However, we were justified in believing we would find in Eden's words a shade of encouragement a little more in favor of sanctions. It was not there.

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER
Associated Press

COLOGNE, Germany, March 10—German army commanders began their first inspection of troops in the re-occupied Rhine land today.

They were received cordially by the Reichswehr, which was more than a mere show of force.

One Cologne newspaper published a photograph of a battery of heavy artillery, being kept in a reinforced concrete blockhouse near Cologne.

Censored Descriptions

More batteries were brought into the Rhine zone, demilitarized by the Locarno pact, but the exact number cannot be determined because of the official secrecy.

Descriptions of the army as it appeared from the air when making the Rhine landings, told of tanks and armored cars, but none of these has been in the zone since the start of the occupation.

Foreign residents said the equipment brought in under cover of darkness

Simultaneously, the presence of troops in the re-occupied zone was being disclosed. The Cologne suburbs, as well as the city itself, were heavily garrisoned in empty factories, old buildings and school houses.

CAN'T GO BOTH WAYS

Whoever "Campbell" may be, the letter he brought across the Atlantic from Major Douglas has reached Premier Aberhart; but without brightening the prospect that the Major will arrive in time to end the present financial crisis, or any other month, to set up a Social Credit system.

The Premier is convinced at last that "vicious forces are at work," and "cannot help feeling some person or persons have biased Major Douglas."

There isn't any doubt about that, if "biased" is the right word; nor about who's the person or persons operating the "vicious forces." The Major explained all that in his statement last week.

He advised "that the cost to Alberta of the advice on which its budget has been reconstructed will be $653,000 per annum to begin with, although I am ready to believe that no direct charge has been made for the advice."

This is plain enough; and the reason is so many words were omitted in the original version of what was written, the editor has to guess it was done.

Mr. Major is the man, and his "sound finance" advice has been the instrument.

Which comes back to the starting point, which is also the point Major Douglas has consistently emphasized in the beginning—that the Government must run "on a sound financial" and hold with Social Credit. "East is east and West is west," and no man can proceed in both directions at the same time.

THE INVESTMENT WOULD PAY

Surely, if slowly, governments in Canada are becoming aware that scenery is worth something that can be made to pay dividends in dollars, as well as in enjoyment and in cultural gain.

The Government of British Columbia has just set aside $400 square miles of virgin country in the heart of Vancouver Island, to be kept and improved as a great provincial park and tourist resort.

There is no danger that the British Columbia public will rise in arms against the withdrawal of its vast areas of frontiers and dependent communities; those who will come from timorous politicians and from private parties with exploitative ambitions.

If the Government of Canada were to propose to spend $100,000,000 paying wages to idle men to improve our national and provincial parks, and the roads and bridges, the objections would come from the general body of the taxpayers, who would rather spend money that way than hand it out as "doles."

As who can doubt that the investment, if the money were available, would pay a good cash return each year for ten years? The motor car has made "waste land"—hilly and mountainous country, dotted with lakes and traversed by streams—valuable. Our Government could easily meet the possibilities for profit, as well as for pleasure, that are thus placed within reach.

FINESSE IN EUROPE

Hilter's move has shifted the eyes of Europe from Ethiopia to the Rhineland. Perhaps it was intended to do that. In any case it is timed to fit into the plans of Mussolini, too nicely to be mere coincidence.

The League last week sounded out Italy and Ethiopia on the subject of negotiating peace. Italy accepted the proposal in principle—but on condition that sanctions be lifted.

Then Hitler invaded the Rhineland. Immediately the question arose whether Italy would stand with Britain, France and Belgium in enforcing the Locarno pact.

Some despots said Italy probably would not. Hard despots said France would submit to a demand of sanctions, and then their withdrawal, not wanting to be involved in one and the same time in a dispute with Germany and a clash with Italy.

If Hitler and Mussolini are playing together, the game is not over yet. At the ends both, they are playing loose hands with substantially the same result. France is subjected to a "squeeze," and the League has two rebellions against international law to deal with, instead of one.

If France ceases to support sanctions Britain will do the same, and Mussolini may help himself to as much of Abyssinia as he wants. And with Italy standing pat on the Locarno pact, Britain, France and Belgium have the choice of ignoring the violation of that treaty or of doing all the enforcing themselves.

DO WE WANT MORE TAXES?

The Calgary Albertan continues to officially pillory Major Douglas, in absentia, as a rascal, and is encouraged to "observe that Mr. Aberhart shows no disposition to temporize with him."

The Major is castigated as a civil servant who "has arrogated to himself the powers of a dictator" who "now has the power to control his employees" with regard to what they should do, but orders them, in the curt language of a cablegram, to undo much they have already done—pile on more taxes.

The Major's critics want to know, "Who is this man Douglas that possesses more authority than any Government in the Empire?" Taxes taken upon himself the powers of a Mussolini or a Hitler but exercises them with less tact than either of them.

Further: "Were you not here in that hour that seemed so critical to you instead of cable us your afterthoughts at so much pernickety word?" Such conduct, it is suggested, "will cast doubt upon a gentleman's honor."

All this because the Major wants to withdraw from the position of chief adviser to the Government of Alberta, for reasons summarized in a cablegram sent to Ottawa, and has not clearly explained in the correspondence which the Government has not yet made public.

Reasons which were echoed in the Major's statement in London on Monday: "I have always opposed increased taxation. It is true I have added Premier Aberhart to the panel of tax planners recommended by his present adviser."

The Major, it will be noted, says and has done, and is still doing, his best to oppose more taxation upon the distress-ridden people of Alberta. Moreover, he came to come along and set up the Social Credit machinery if the tax school had not forced him to do so.

It would seem to be a proposal any reasonable-minded Government would welcome, instead of heaping abuse on the author while withholding the correspondence in which his views are understood to have been set forth in such a clear manner.

Why not give the Major the chance he asks for, and the taxpayers the break he promises to give them? Is increased taxation without dividends preferable to present taxation plus dividends?

The Passing Show

By J. S. COPPER

A day or two ago I started a column of defence of misunderstood people, but didn't get further than Major C. H. Douglas before the bell rang at the foot of the column.

Come to think of it, the first column I ever wrote was on the possibilities of a job as Public Defender. There'll be quite a few people in need of defending before many weeks are over. The tendency is to run the muddle man to extremes—extremes of guillability and adulation, then to extremes of suspicion and detraction.

I have seen the public defender veers from one extreme to the other, or when in pursuit of an unselfish purpose one suffices.

J. S. Copper

One of the occasional one figures who needs the service of a Public Defender is King Carol's wife. Generalissimo, I see, is cited because he has been sighted in company with a woman.

Kings are traditionally free to have mistresses. Ever since the days of the wise King Solomon who enjoyed bedding and coining with seven hundred wives and three hundred concubines, ladies have been allowed to royal spouses.

King Carol's real offence may be that he has only one wife. Possibly, likely if I'm not mistaken, and his matrimonial retinue is also big. I've seen it work out that way in everyday life—men of lesser means act as censors of custom to one person. This is a shabby device. The wife dignifies an irregular relationship with respect and fidelity is the real menace to established social customs.

Remember that next year King Carol's wife is on the trial panel of Trial by Jury, let's put it in company with Mrs. Luperci. How neat in Edmonton—I don't think!

Nest is the Princess Babs of the Five and Ten Cent Stores—now a happy mother in Europe surrounded by hewed-wood guards to prevent American gangsters from forcing an entrance into the castle and stealing the young Crown Prince from his crib.

Princess Babs, with her splashes into society and her many misdeeds, is a picture of a woman with any kind of a title, but giving the column many a paragraph ere this. Now, at last, she seems to have married happily to a very likeable and young woman. Dina, he is a Count, but that doesn't seem to hold him back.

Remember that next year King Carol's wife is on the trial panel of Trial by Jury, let's put it in company with Mrs. Luperci. How neat in Edmonton—I don't think!

Overcoming eczema therefore depends mainly upon correcting the diet. While the use of a better diet will produce considerable improvement, it is nevertheless true that a most rapid result can be obtained when the fast taken before the restricted diet is adopted. In other words, fasting for a short time will produce a healing effect only obtained by dieting for a longer time. The result for this is that when the restricted diet is adopted, the rapidly eliminated by way of the regular channels insomuch as fasting increases the eliminative work of the body. During the fast, elimination is greatly increased as quickly as it does when the patient is eating.

It is the extra elimination which so quickly purifies the skin, and automatically reduces the skin inflammation.

DIGRE FOR THE YEAR

Orphan house, the year is dead.

Come and sigh, come and weep!

Merry hours, smile instead.

For the year is but asleep.

See, it smiles as it is sleeping,

Mocking you unfriendly weeping.

AS AN EARTHQUAKE ROCKS A CORSE

In its coffin in the clay,

So ugly, so rough, so rough,

Rocks the dead—she rocks the year;

Solemn hours! wait awhile

For your mother in her shroud.

As the wild air stirs and stirs

The treacherous cradle of a child,

So the broath of these rude days

Rocks the year—be calm and mild,

Trembling hours; she will arise

With new love within her eyes.

January gray is here,

Like a roston by her grave;

February bears the bitter;

March with great dash and raw,

And April—oh, ho, ho, ho,

Follow with my fiercest flowers.

The Cure For Unemployment

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

With all due respect for the giant mentality congregated in Ottawa, there is throughout all the solons in Parliament an entire misunderstanding of the requisites factors ready for effective action to cure unemployment.

The Minister of Labor says that the Government cannot build the national out of unemployment because it only a half truth. The government can do it by building structures to house members of the Civil Service, but the Government does not need to get into the building trade. The urgent and plain duty of the Government is to make construction money available at reasonable rates of interest and reasonable terms of repayment to all persons who want to come into the market to improve fixed assets in Canada, on the security of such fixed assets. The nation will immediately build itself out of unemployment. Credit is the missing factor in national reconstruction.

A talented member for the city of Toronto takes the opposite view; claiming that the government can build unemployment out of existence. This also is only a half truth. It is true that the government can, by its own expenditure, bring into the job great Canadas in the Peace River Empire, bring into active account resources now dormant having an actual value greater than the total amount of the public debt of Canada; but the building of fixed assets, made profitably by the furnishing of railway transportation, must be undertaken by the thousands who will take part in the resulting major movement of population.

Ten million dollars spent in railway construction, will bring at least ten billion dollars worth of resources in line for development; creating new business for every community in Canada. The only necessity is to substitute action for eloquence.

Through Duluth and Superior nearly one billion tons of iron ore per season move down the Great Lakes to United States manufacturing cities. On the Belcher Islands in Hudson Bay, the supply of iron ore is tremendous, but it is in Canada, and has not even had a royal commission appointed to inquire into it.

One of the world's greatest engineering concerns, one of the best financial companies in America, is inquire into coal, produce reports upon, and facilitate the importation of coal.

Thousands of square miles of territory adjacent to the Hudson Bay foreshore, and capable of furnishing fuel to the Hudson Bay Railway have been classified as underlain by Devonian Feudation. Nothing is ever done about it.

A most modernistic policy of governmental bringing into active account of the great assets mentioned above will reduce unemployment to a minimum. Four-fifths in amount of the necessary transportation expenditure has already been made; so that effort has stopped just short of results.

DR. LUKE is a country doctor in the little north western town of Montoway.

He is a TOY, who Bew to Montoway, and nothing seems to him more important than his patients.

After a preliminary work in the west with Reginald as his head-quarters, Mr. Valance came to tell him that the work of rehabilitation started a year ago by the Department of Agriculture.

Efforts will be made to prevent returns to the prairie, and to devise means of offsetting the crop losses due to drought conditions.

CHARGE THREAT MADE BY ANN'S FORMER HUSBY

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—Anna Hardin's lawyer charged in court Monday that her ex-actor husband, George Raft, had demanded money from the blonde film actress under threat of exposing her past.

Roland Ruth Woolsey made the charge at a hearing on Miss Hardin's application for a restraining order to take her and Bannister's daughter, Jane, seven, to Europe to spend the summer. The court granted the permission.

Stay At Home Girls Said To Be Menaces

DEAR MISS DIX—I am going with a girl who has the apron-swing complex. What I mean is that for a while she gets into a constitution of mind to the effect that she can't go anywhere without staying at home. I get a date. If they are sleeping over, I don't. This girl is 21 years of age, but she has no more freedom than if she was a little child. She says she can't go to the family reunion because they have the first claim on all of her time and for me to run a bad second.

Don't intend to put up with this much longer.

Answer: If the girl prefers going to prayer meeting or the neighborhood movies with the family to staying on you, it doesn't look as if she can be expected to do much for you. You might consider an eating with father and mother and little sister and brother a very hilarious experience.

No doubt this girl who prefers staying with her family to going out is an animal in the making.

No doubt all the old ladies who know her are holding her up as an example to their own daughters and telling their sons that a good daughter is a good wife. The real truth of the matter is that the family instinct is about the worst fault a girl can have from a marrying point of view. The overly devoted daughter doesn't make the best mate. She makes about as good a pet.

For she is always more married to her family than she is to her husband. The father always comes first with her. He is kept after consideration, she keeps her hours filled with mother and father and sisters and brothers, and she is so busy with her chores, goes to pay for father's operation and matron's operation and having the baby, and the husband, and strengthening Jenny's teeth, and buying party frocks for Ma and sending them off to the milliner, who marries the perfect daughter is generally sold into slavery to his wife's family on his wedding day.

Many a man can never get ahead in the world, no matter how hard he works, because his wife spends his money on him. Many a man has given up his fortune because his wife has spent it away from mother and the girls. Many a man's whole life is ruled by what his wife wants him to do. His wife, and is dominated in every way not only by his wife, but also his wife's family.

So, I think a long time before we'd find a man up with any girl who puts her up with me.

Proteins Of Eggs Are Rich In Amino Acids

By MARY E. DAGUE

Good eggs are a valuable protein to our families in health and in some form at least once every day.

Many grown-ups will welcome

eggs if mushrooms are added to the egg dish, or if the egg

We also know that different "qualities" of eggs are a good source

COOKING DECIDES

Properly cooked eggs are easily digested and can be served to the entire family.

This does not mean that a small child may eat "deviled" eggs or that the egg may be overcooked.

Another thing to remember when planning meals in which eggs figure prominently is that eggs are not a meal dish in itself unless they are cut as or scrambled or fried.

What To Do

Handicapped! Is Girl Lacking Development?

By GLADYS GLAD

Down in New Guinea, I am told, the women of certain tribes consider a very large but a much-to-be-expected normal condition. But just past the girdle, the poor lassies can't show more than the front of an over-developed dowager is considered decidedly in the ugly duckling class. The result is that the bodies of their gowns, and wind yards of cloth about their waists, give them an exaggeratedly developed bust.

Of course, a bust of such exaggerated proportions is anything but compatible with our American idea of figure beauty. So the day the flat-chested woman finds herself handicapped by her lack of development is a sad day.

The type of figure may have been regarded as attractive in the days of the Roman emperors, but today, for the styles of 1936 developed busts.

The safest and most effective method of bringing about development, I believe, is through daily, vigorous exercising. This is the purpose outlined in my "New Figure" booklet, with an effective exercise chart.

These exercises are also helpful in developing, firming and strengthening the bust.

HELPFUL EXERCISES

Cross-legged on the floor, your arms lowered, the back of your neck straight, lift your right knee, thumbs back, and at the same time pull up your chest. Don't just puff it out. Hold it. Hold your arm muscles. Concentrate on the back of your neck, for that is where the bust is located.

Then erect arms out at the sides at shoulder level. Keeping the arms straight bring the hands together sharply in front of the bust. Hold this position as far as you can. Continue this motion for 20 seconds.

Kneed on the floor and sit back on your heels. Clasp your hands behind your head, drop your head backward and expand your chest fully. Then slowly bend your head forward, keeping the bust leading and the head well back, until your chest almost touches the floor. Hold this position for a minute and slowly draw your body back on a right point.

53 MILL RATE IS AGAIN URGED BY MAYOR J. A. CLARKE

Opposition Voice
By Ald. McCrea
At Council Meet

MAYOR APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF FOUR TO INVESTIGATE SALARY SCALE AFTER BRIEF DISCUSSION OF THE ESTIMATE.

Edmonton's 1938 mill rate should be set at 53 and commissioners instructed to pare estimates to that figure, unless the rate would cover expenditures. This was the suggestion made by Mayor J. A. Clarke, K.C., at city council meeting, Monday night. Disagreement by Ald. McCrea showed that even if the rate were fixed at 53 the city would be compelled to find sufficient funds to meet this year's operations.

After a brief discussion of estimates, the mayor appointed a committee of four aldermen to consider the matter. The four commissioners were also instructed by council to confer with the sinking fund board of the city, and to determine the city's cash position for 1938 and the possibility of disposing of some assets which have to be floated to cover expenditures which council plans on capitalizing.

MEETS TUESDAY

Those named to the salary committee, which will hold its first meeting Tuesday, are: Tom McCreath, Ald. E. East, Ald. John C. Craig, Ald. W. W. Clevery.

Opening discussion on estimates, Ald. Charles Gould suggested to council that it be referred to a downward revision of salaries for departmental heads.

Raising an objection, Ald. Jas. East maintained that salaries of departmental heads were already too low as compared to those paid by private business.

WATER TAXES

Ald. Clark also expressed opposition to water taxes.

Pointing to what he termed an increase in the salary scale for superintendents, Mayor Clarke said the situation may be more than temporary, since the price house, pumping plant and street lighting were all taken over by the city.

Suggestion was made that Royal Alexandra hospital estimates be increased from $100,000 to $125,000 to provide an extra week's holiday for those working overtime, with a corresponding increase in pay. This matter was referred to the salary committee for a recommendation.

URGES ACTION

Ald. R. E. Foote complained that the city had not yet received estimates for 1938, and asked that they be sent in as soon as possible.

Suggestion for a council action for council, Mayor Clarke urged that the committee of four commissioners ordered to return estimates to a point where these rates could be expedited.

NEW BASIS

Ald. Guy Patterson frowned on this idea. If commissioners were given power to fix rates, he said, it could slash wages. He believed that the needed reduction would be best obtained by the basis of taxation, and felt that the taxing of intangible wealth should be considered by the Dominion Mayors' Conference.

Even a 55 mill rate would not be representative of the 1938 costs, asserted Ald. McCrea.

GETS CREDIT

The mayor, however, advised to give the city a line of credit amounting to $100,000, so that it could be met before it was accepted by the city under bylaw passed a short time ago.

Since a budget can't be adopted until the city gets credit, the cheapest the city could get, he understood the Federal government would be willing to do, he declared Ald. J. F. Fry.

Council adjourned until Wednesday evening, when further estimates will be required.

Forged Cheque Is Passed In Store

Forged checks were passed in a grocery store in the city of Gainsborough, Alta., the amount of $33.65 was cashed by an unidentified man, in Harry T. Grocerette's.

The cheques were rubber-stamped "cashier's voucher," the writing and the company name, Robert G. Guiney, and were paid to N. D. Gaines and his wife.

The man who passed it was described as being in his 30's years of age, 5 ft. 7 in. and wearing a grey suit and grey overcoat.

RELATION OF DOMINIONS TO REARMAMENT

Whole Defence Position is Explained to Representatives in London

LONDON, March 10.—The relation of the Dominions and other parts of the empire to the large-scale rearmament of Great Britain, by the government was discussed last night in the house of commons during a debate on the question of rearmament and Germany's violation of the Locarno pact.

POSITION EXPLAINED

J. H. Thomas, colonial secretary, referring to the position of the Dominions, said that the whole position had been explained to their representatives in London at the time the King came over here last year. Since then the full contents of the government's white paper setting forth the reasons for reorganization of British defence had been communicated to the Dominions. Each of them, without exception, in the same way, had accepted it. The matter had not, it was agreed, by the government, but felt it was a policy which ought to be adopted.

Earl Winterbotham, former under-secretary of state for India, added yesterday that the Dominions had expressed the intention of participating in a collective security for defence in the event of war under the present circumstances.

NOT SIGNATORS

"The Dominions are not signatories of the Locarno pact," Thomas replied. "So far as collectivity security is concerned, the Dominions have not signed the pact, to which they have given support. They are parties to every step in the Locarno pact, but additionally a number of the Dominions are taking steps for their own security."

He added that a number of the colonies had spontaneously also informed their governments to contribute to the general defense of the Empire.

Ottawa, March 10—Canada is not committing specifically to any plan of rearmament. But it has learned it was learned authoritatively last night, but the Dominion is a signatory to the Locarno pact, a covenant and as such has fulfilled all incidental obligations.

SCORING OF RED WING FORWARDS FEATURES WEEK

Ace Line Marks Up
17 Points Despite Club's Poor Play

"Sweeney" Schriner Fails
To Add to Leadership,
Being Held Pointless
Throughout Week.

MONTREAL, March 10.—While the piping pair of New York Americans were easily beaten by opposing defense for three games, sharpshooters of Detroit Red Wings, Chicago Black Hawks, Toronto Maple Leafers and Montreal Maroons advanced through last week to threaten a race for National Hockey League title.

Outstanding performances of the week, as shown in statistics issued by the league office, were consistent pointmaking of Detroit's ace line. Reunited after injuries had kept them off the ice for more than four weeks and a short time, the trio of Eddie Meyers, Herb Lewis, left wing, and Art Chapman, centre, scored 17 of the 21 points although Detroit lost two of the three games played. The Americans, however, ed three goals, three assists, while Lewis netted one and added in four.

SCHRINER POINTS

The statistician showed Dave Sweeney, the Americans' left winger and top point scorer of the whole league, held his own. In the centre line, Art Chapman, obtained six but one goal.

Schroeder's wing was cut to four points by Paul Thompson, Chicago left wing, and he and Art and Eddie obtained an assist for 12 goals, 20 assists, 37 points to take second place. The Americans' total in the United States section was 18-23-41.

Montreal, Boston, New York, centre and Mud March, right wing, gained two and three points respectively to move up to fourth and third place in the United States section.

CHAPMAN STILL SECOND

In the Canadian section Chapman still held second with 10-26-36 but Hooley Smith of Maroons was right at 10-26-35.

The race for honors in goal scoring was tied up tight with five goals each by Eddie. They were Barry and Dillon in the Americans; Chapman, Smith and Eddie in the Maroons.

In penalties Red Horner of Toronto had 144 minutes, by far the greatest total, followed by Eddie, who included Smith, Montreal; 70; Conacher, Toronto, 70; Shultz, Montreal, 77; Kelly, Toronto, 68; McLean, 68; Dowd, 63; and Siebert, Boston, 62.

Melvin Sjolie Lengthens
Mark; Nordone Wins

McMechan, the big and popular wrestling policeman of this city, who last Friday, stood up to the crowd, telling it he will be opposing defense for three games, sharpshooters of Detroit Red Wings, Chicago Black Hawks, Toronto Maple Leafers and Montreal Maroons advanced through last week to threaten a race for the championship.

Supporting the beautifully mounted skiers of the tournament was the team from the Camrose Ski Club, which has been the most successful in the season.

It looks like a card that should be put in the permanent men of wrestling showmanship can possibly offer.

The jump record, which will be turned mainly upon McMechan, who does battle against the veterans of the game and the coming-up youngsters. While snow conditions were unfavorable for racing, the jump with the fastest is the one made by H. U. Johnston, Camrose, who made the longest jump ever made in the 70-foot tower, 121½ feet.

The two-day tournament ended Saturday evening with the dividing line between the skiers of the Eskimos and the Camrose skiers. Dr. H. H. Nordone, president of the Camrose Ski Club, was the victor.

U. ELECTION CAMPAIGN NOW IN FULL SWAY

Candidates Pledge Construction of Students' Union Building

A battery of promises and proposals swept members of the Student Union at the University Monday night, and the students were heard when election speeches were heard from candidates contesting positions on the Student Council slate for next term.

To raise funds for the construction of a Student Union building which would contain the long-desired hall, one candidate made an endeavor to arouse greater interest in student activities, both athletic and otherwise, by the introduction of his participation in student affairs during the last few years.

INCREASE FREEDOM

W. Lloyd Hutton, interrogated by Guy McLean, who has been a banner to increase the freedom of the students as far as their own interests go, said he would support the holds at present the position of director of the Yearbook, and is willing to do so on the understanding that his participation in student affairs during the last few years.

H. H. Townsend, a freshman student in Arts, and representative for the Faculty of Education, Jack Macdonald, and stated a five-point program, which contained recommendations given students on the purchase of tickets to student entertainments, to be given to the students for the sum of $1.00, which they pay, and the other students exercise more authority over such activities as the student publication, The Gateway.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Bill east, law student, secretary of most of the sports clubs, a football player and president of the Senior Class, who was introduced by Hugh A. Townsend, said he believed he would endeavor to secure for the University the appointment of an athletic director, and if he were a member of the permanent staff, this he believed would have a beneficial effect on all the sports teams, both inter-faculty and inter-university, and would tend to encourage the raising of the standards of construction of a swimming pool. He also stated that he would be president of the Union to endeavor to have greater power given the budget while at the same time reducing the cost of operation, in order to better account the students with what they fund amasses.

C. Tait as secretary of women's athletics; Betty Giese, and Catherine Terwilleger as secretaries of women's basketball; and Jack Bradley, Max Keay and Black Keay as secretary of the Intercollegiate.

As time did not permit the faculty to be present, the election of candidates will take place Wednesday.

HOUSING ACT GETS SUPPORT CITY COUNCIL

Strongly supporting the Dominion Housing Act, Ald. F. East told city council Monday night that Edmonton should be given an opportunity to benefit from the act, which provides federal loans for prospective home building.

Ald. J. Macdonald, city's delegate to the conference of mayors of the Ottawa group, said there would make representations in this connection before the end of the week.

And, further, he said, the delegates left them under instructions to see that the bill, if passed, would benefit Edmonton contractor, who is interested in a housing scheme.

Ald. East said he would only increase the debt structure, declar- ed Ald. Jas. East.

Ald. East, however, spoke of the success of the scheme in the Old Country, and maintained that similar legislation should be adopted here in order to assist young married people.

What was needed was a new financial system, said Ald. F. East. "The Dominion Housing Act will give Social Credit members a chance to try and make the government see the light."

Referring briefly to the pro- lanner's action in hiring R. J. Magee as a financial advisor, Ald. East marked that Mr. Magee was a sound money man, and that Ald. East was still in favor of the young money man no matter what Utopia is promised.
